19. Prospects

The semiconductor industry continues to experience challenging macroeconomic and geopolitical issues resulting in uncertain end demand, rising inflation and manpower shortages. The Group has taken measures and shall continue to strive to minimize any potential exposures or disruptions arising from these challenges.

Year 2023 would be a challenging one for the Group, and the Group is expected to experience a decline in profitability for the financial year. Several factors contributing to this decline include softer revenue forecasts from our customers, the full-year tax impact of our expired pioneer status in one of the subsidiaries, the full impact of increased minimum wages and increase in utilities costs.

Despite these challenges, the Group remains committed in finding new and innovative ways to drive growth and profitability.
